PROPERTY DETAILS

Tucked among the pines in Deer Creek Valley Ranchos, this mountain retreat is full of surprises. Picture yourself soaking in a private hot tub under a covered deck, then stepping into your own sauna just steps away. Inside, cozy vibes meet everyday comfort—think stone fireplace, wood floors, and a sunny open layout. The kitchen's got granite counters, stainless appliances, and a view that might distract you from cooking. The primary suite? Spacious, peaceful, and steps from a spa-like bath with double sinks and a soaking tub. Don't forget about the new furnace and air conditioning. In Bailey, Colorado, you're just minutes from hiking, fly fishing, and breweries like Mad Jack's. Staunton State Park and charming downtown spots are nearby—but with a deck like this, you might not want to leave home. Ready to find out what's behind the next door?
