PROPERTY DETAILS

Imagine starting your morning with coffee on the deck, the air crisp at 8,175 feet, and nothing but pines and distant peaks filling the view. This home in The Preserve at Pine Meadows feels like the kind of place you settle into slowly. Evenings spent by the fire while the light fades over the mountains. Quiet mornings when the only sound is the waterfall tumbling over the rocks outside. Spaces that open up to the outdoors so the line between inside and out almost disappears. It's the sort of house that makes you linger a little longer—whether you're gathering friends around the kitchen island or just watching the weather roll in from the covered patio. Ready to feel it for yourself? Let's go take a look.
